Grant MacEwan

Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta

On behalf of the office I have the honour to occupy, I extend greetings to all members of the graduating class at Queen Elizabeth Composite High School. You are all fortunate young people in having the rich opportunity of securing a good education for the important role of living and serving as Canadians.

More than ever, education is important to our citizens, and no less important to the Nation. The people of Canada, through their Governments, have a big investment in educational facilities, indicating the regard in which training and education are held today. Inasmuch as the Governments have an investment in student education, students and graduates have a debt to their community and their country.

To the Graduates of 1967, who have the distinction of completing their prescribed courses in Centennial Year, I trust that opportunity and success will crown all efforts.

Editorial

What sort of person do we wish our young Canadian to be? What will he be like if he embodies the best in the Canada around him? He will have some reverence for the past, a respect for what has gone before. He will have kept some of the simple virtues of an earlier time which will help him to sort out the real from the counterfeit. He will work hard himself with respect for the view of others. He will work hard and play hard and know how to use his increasing leisure. He will have resources within him to keep him independent of the mechanized pleasure of the age. He will be able to laugh at the absurd and will become angry at the sight of injustice. He will show an inherited instinct for freedom. He will nurse a personal devotion to the welfare and the safety of his country. He will have a deep and quiet belief in what she is and what she can do.

- Vincent Massey

This passage was written many years ago. Since this is Canada's Centennial year, it is even more significant today. Vincent Massey grasps not only the essence of being Canadian, but also the existence of individuality. Whereas he describes Canadians as being individuals separate from American personalities, students of Queen Elizabeth Composite High School can justly boast of their individuality among the students of other high schools.

Queen Elizabeth Composite High School's personality is represented on these pages. Her attributes, her sense of humor, her sportsmanship are portrayed. We, of the yearbook staff, hope you will be pleased with our literal and pictorial description of our school's personality.

THE ELIZABETHAN THEME

"The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and, if they can't find them, make them."

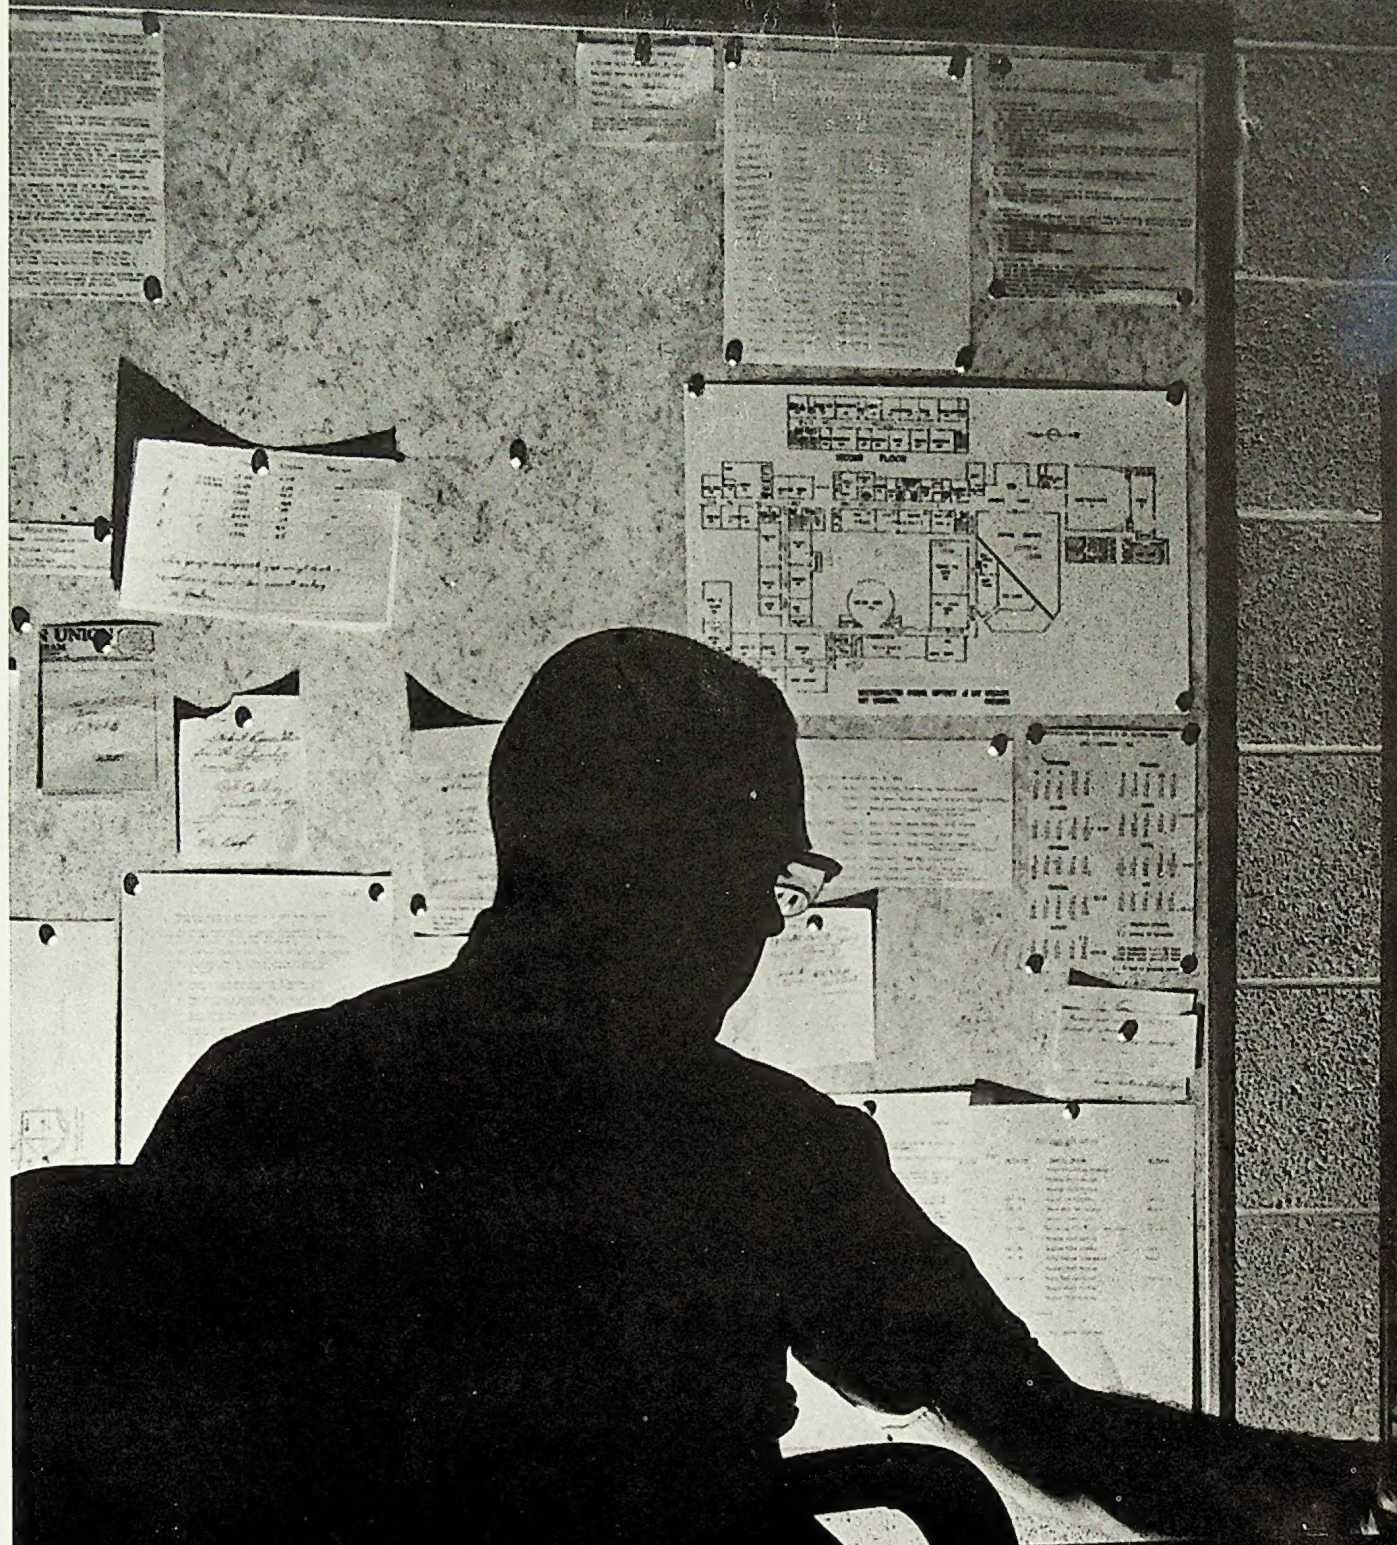

- George Bernard Shaw

If George Bernard Shaw had been born during the Elizabethan period, he could have been writing a daily code of living for the people. This was a time of feverish creative and scientific experimentation, and there were great opportunities for obtaining glory and riches.

Our modern times have even more opportunities and it is hoped that the 1967 graduates of Queen Elizabeth will use them to their advantage. Just as the Elizabethans used their talents of their great people, the treasures from their enemies, and the wonders of the "New World" to increase England's wealth and power, our graduates will grasp at bits of knowledge and experience and adapt them for their own benefit and thus make this world a better place in which to live.

There are many "New Worlds" to discover. It is within the power of each person to explore—and discover these "New Worlds".

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

CANADA, 1967

CANADA'S CENTENNIAL YEAR

This is a most exciting year for Canada and a most challenging year for young Canadians. Queen Elizabeth Composite High School is part of the Associated School Project of UNESCO for 1967. We are honoured to be chosen as participants in this scheme as our main contribution to Centennial Year. Not only are we concerned about Canadians unity and the celebration of Canada's birthday; we are also concerned about Canada's place in the world scene. We hope to find out more about other nations, believing that knowledge will help overcome prejudice. We hope to understand better the U.N.'s role and how, through the Associated School Project, we can become more internationally minded.

Involved in this plan will be classes in English, Social Studies, Art, Music, Drama and also the recreational side of physical education. We have an enthusiastic staff and student body who hope to make 1967 a year to remember. We should, therefore, as a result of our profit, be better informed, more understanding and better prepared to play our part in bringing the nations of the world closer together.

NEWS for TEENS

No one can say that today's teens aren't "up" on the news and views — they read The Edmonton Journal.

Check the news headlines and stories to keep abreast of happenings locally and abroad . . . you'll find you're "in the know" in your crowd and you'll find you're better informed when classwork calls for background knowledge of world events.

On Friday you'll find the Teen Page of special interest, with a round-up of school news, weekly stories by high-school correspondents and regular teen features like The Scene and Teen Top Ten.

the Bay

Since the granting of the Hudson's Bay Company's charter in 1670, traders, seamen and adventurers of the Company helped to shape the history of Canada. Since the establishment of the Bay's first department stores — Winnipeg in 1881 and Edmonton in 1890 — the Bay has progressed with the country. Now, as in the past, the Bay continues to serve Canadians with foresight and integrity. Your satisfaction is assured when you shop at the Bay.

President of the Students' Union

Too soon the school year, 1966-67, comes to an end, and from it, many memories are left behind.

The formal introductions to the new school term were quickly swept aside by the response to the school spirit injected by the successful "Frosh Welcome Days". This spirit was further heightened by the "inspiring" pep rallies, the overly successful dances, and the "bold doings" of Booster Club. The Climax of this new school spirit was the two successful year plays, DINNY AND THE WITCHES and THE BOYFRIEND.

However, none of this could have been accomplished by a handful of students. True, it took leaders, but more important there existed true followers.

At this time, I would personally like to thank the Students' Union Council and Executive for their continuous co-operation and diligent work. On behalf of the Students and Students' Union, I would like to especially thank Mr. Allison, Mr. Te Kampe, Mr. Marshall, and staff and administration for their patience and broad-mindedness towards such an enthusiastic group.

To the Grad Class of '66-67, I extend the greatest of success and happiness in their future endeavours.

I feel assured that the future grade tens, elevens, and twelves will continue to lead Queen Elizabeth with the utmost of success and thus live up to our motto: "Virile Parte" – to the utmost of our ability.

OUR ADOPTED CHILDREN

If the United Nations creed could be summed up in one word, it would probably be "education". To this end the United Nations Club has scheduled many guest speakers to inform students of the world situation. From education comes betterment, the ability to rise above poverty and ignorance. And this is the gift that the U. N. Club is giving to two small "adopted" children. Tat-Leung Chaing, nine years old, of Formosa is getting an education. He failed spelling in his first year of school but has promised he will try harder. His father died of asthma last year and his mother works for low wages as an earth coolie. He enjoys sports and the other activities of a normal nine year old child.

Silvana Marziali is twelve years old and lives in the cold northern mountains of Italy. Her father is a shepherd. She sent greetings and thanks at Christmastime. Both these children know hunger and suffering. But now, they both have that great thing called, "the Chance", for a future.

Associated with us are other schools in Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Burma, Canada, Ceylon, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, Ethiopia, Finland, France, Federal Republic of Germany, Ghana, Greece, Hungary, India, Indonesia, Israel, Italy, Japan, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, Korea, Lebanon, Morocco, Netherlands, Norway, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Poland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Thailand, United Arab Republic, United Kingdom, Uruguay and Yugoslavia.

UNESCO

Unesco Associated Schools are established to find ways of teaching the principle of UNESCO. "Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the foundations of peace must be constructed." Unesco Associated Schools are found in countries of virtually every ideology, race, religion, type of government or economy, and level of affluence. They are nominated by their national Unesco authorities and thereafter have some direct contact with the world headquarters in Paris.

Although the curriculum of a Unesco Associated School is governed by the usual local requirements, such a school is expected to emphasize one international function by every possible means.

Mr. E. H. Bliss, Supervisor of Secondary Curriculum for the Edmonton Public School Board, in presenting the Unesco Associated School Scroll on October 15, 1966, employed the theme that "the proper study of man is man". In adopting this theme, teachers and advisors in every subject and activity have endeavored to make students more aware of the accomplishments, plans, and ideals, of a cross section of mankind, whether considered ethnically, racially, geographically or ideologically. Towards this end, Queen Elizabeth has received generous community support, energetic United Nations Club encouragement and a bountiful supply of literary material including books, records, newspapers, pictures and periodicals from a cross section of the world gathered through the library.

Centennial Club

'As for man, his days are like grass; he flourishes like a flower of the field; for the wind passes over it and it is gone, and its place know no more.' (Psalm 103)

Time is the enemy of us all. Soon, we will have left these halls forever, taking everything that we are with us. We are sad because so much is already past, because those who follow will not know us or be known by us. At the same time we look ahead to the complex problems we must solve and know we must leave something; especially this year.

1967 is a year of past and future, of dusty deeds and new dawns, of Confederation and a uniting of the generations.

Our Centennial project is an attempt to establish communication with those who follow us. "Spot-lite Canada" is a combination student lounge and '67 display area. The foyer at the top of the central stairwell has been filled with '67, with Canada, with us. We have lived; and it is to be hoped that those who follow will add to it, carry the conversation to all the generations and also LIVE.

A Great Canadian

On March 5, at the age of 78, Georges P. Vanier, Governor-General of Canada since 1959, died peacefully at Government House in Ottawa.

A First World War hero, lawyer, diplomat caught up in the evacuation of France during World War II, wartime commanding officer of Quebec, humanitarian and statesman – all these were Georges Philias Vanier. Yet he was a simple man with simple pleasures. He could make a casual conversation an exhilarating experience, displaying wit, sagacity, culture and a quick understanding of modern affairs. Many have described their acquaintance with this man as a rich experience.

As Governor-General, he held the highest office in the land, personal representative of the Queen as head of the state of Canada. Among his many other offices, he was chief scout of Canada, General Vanier's many-sided career spanned six decades and touched many facets of Canadian life but it revolved around three loyalties, to church, queen and country. During his term as Governor-General, he and his wife sparked the founding of the Vanier Institute of the Family, following a conference at Government House in 1964. It commissioned sociological studies of the increasing complexity of modern living and its effect on unity and integrity of family life.

In a fitting tribute to General Vanier, the senior Armed Forces officer here described the Governor-General as "the type of leader who appears only once in a long time".

Governor-General Vanier was a dedicated Canadian, a gallant soldier and a true gentleman, probably best known for his steadfastness against adversity both in war and peace.

PIONEER DAY

For the third year in a row Queen Elizabeth has had a successful "pioneer day". This year, however, a new view was added. Each classroom attempted to disguise its doorway in the pioneer theme. Thus, Queen E. was transformed into a town of the past populated by "old timers". The winning room was 208 which was a replica of a coal mine – the prize being the "original golden jug at the end of the rainbow".

At noon Queen E. gathered in the gym to dance the Virginia Reel and Polka with all the vigor and stamina of their forefathers . . . ha! ha! ha! Also there was a costume judging which proved to be difficult because of the elaborate outfits worn by all contestants . . . Doreen Hoover, who wore a blue hoop skirt, Gary Halliburton – a Scottish highlander, Mr. Egert – a minute man, and Mrs. Von Rosen in an elegant pioneer dress, were the winners.

DINNY AND THE WITCHES

The first play this year was "Dinny and the Witches" and proved to be one of the best ever. A young man caught in the web of life and of fantasy, Larry Dill, who played Dinny, was trying to find something in or get something out of life, but, as all of us, was doomed to die.

The three witches, Zenobia, Luella, and Ulga were to carry out the deed but before this was to happen, Dinny tore his warrant out of the Doomsday Book and thus became the master of time and the world. He thought he would help people who were in trouble, but this proved unsuccessful. Amy, one of the people he was helping, was told to go to the thirteenth paper container and there would find her love, Dinny, himself, turned out to be her lover. The rest of the play was heart-warming.

Mr. Thurston and the cast plus the stage crew did a fine job - Congratulations.

THE BOYFRIEND – directed by Mr. Thurston

"The Boyfriend", Queen Elizabeth's spring musical, opened March 15th in the school auditorium. The orchestra, conducted by Miss Lang, played the opening overture, and suddenly the audience was transformed into the age of the Roaring Twenties at Madame Dubonnet's finishing school on the Riviera.

Hortense, (Christine Mercer) was busily engaged when the "young ladies" burst on the scene. In high adolescent pitch they declared, "We scheme about, we dream about, and we've been known to scream about that certain thing called the boyfriend". Alas, one girl was not caught up in the exciting frenzy of the upcoming ball. Polly Brown (Myrna Johnson) is without an escort, due to her father's stern disapproval of "gold-digging" young men. Polly is even more left out when her father, Percival (Jim Keefe), meets his childhood "amour", the headmistress Madame Dubonnet (Lesley Lewis). All is not lost however. An eligible young rich man named Tony (Larry Dill) hiding in the guise of a delivery boy, captures the heart of Polly. Meanwhile Dulcie (Brenda Cook), hurrying to and fro on the stage like a carefree bit of fluff, comes under the close scrutiny of the elderly Lord Brockhurst (Neil Lawrence) and they sing, "It's Never Too Late to Fall in Love."

All problems are resolved in the final scene. In true storybook style, Tony keeps his engagement and meets Polly at the Grand Ball. Everyone lives happily ever after in contented bliss, with the possible exception of the henpecked Lord Brockhurst. The atmosphere is one of enchantment and spontaneous good fun, in a production that will not be erased from our memory for a long time.

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This was a good basketball year for the senior girls and their coach, Miss Bright. The senior girls started the basketball season by winning an exhibition game against Paul Kane. The girls won their games, but not without some injury to the team. Betty Baaten and Jan Gordon had the misfortune of spraining ankles, which prevented them from playing a few games. The team members were not the only ones to suffer injuries; the girls' coach also had a sprained ankle. Despite the injuries, however, the girls went on to finish second in a league of seven teams, with six wins and losses only to McNally and Victoria. Bonnie Doon was among the teams to be defeated by the senior girls.

This second place finish advanced the girls to the semi-finals, where they played two games and were defeated by Ross Sheppard and Victoria.

This was not one of the junior girls' best seasons. The junior girls with coach, Mrs. Shapka, won only one of their eight games. They too had injuries; Rhonda Evans injured her foot during one of the games and was unable to play for quite some time. One of the losses that was most heartbreaking to the girls was the game against St. Josephs. The girls were behind by one point with only a few seconds left to play when Ada Fernhout made a basket. Unfortunately it was not counted as the clock had run out of time. The girls finished fourth in a league of five teams.

Congratulations to all the basketball players and good luck to the future basketballers.

FOOTBALL KNIGHTS

Losing the first game of the season immediately jeopardized the Senior's chances for the play-offs. Having a 3 - 3 - 1 record, the most impressive game was a 16 to 7 victory over East-glen.

Having the most yards rushing (1320) and being second in total offense, QE played many close contests in which the game was undecided until the final gun sounded. However, defensive mishaps at inopportune times led to defeat.

In spite of a 5 - 3 - 1 record, the Juniors were destined to obscurity due to the time, place and date, of their games. Nonetheless, playing mid-week games at 4:30 in sometimes hard and poor fields, they managed to reach the conference play-off. They lost to the eventual city champions.

BASKETBALL KNIGHTS

The Senior Knights continued to maintain their unblemished record of losing the first game of tournament contests by losing in the CAPHER and city championships. The team averaged 42 points a game in a 4 - 8 win-loss record. A prominent victory was a 63 - 57 overtime win against Harry Ainlay and in a predicted loss of 15 points to Ross Sheppard we surprised with a 51 - 50 triumph. Standouts were Les Taschuk with a 17 points average and Dave Koleba, who succeeded in obtaining 10 rebounds per game.

The Junior Knights (6 - 7) record scored 465 points and had 459 points scored against them over the season. Playing close, exciting games, they could have beaten any Junior team on a good night. Having height (an average over six feet) they failed to muster a consistent offense; however, their defense was exceptional at times. Gary Chomin, Jim Cox, and Dwain Clark were the top players.
